SAVES SEAMAN'S LIFE

Steward Is Decorated for One of Most Brave and Remarkable Deeds of the War.

form one of the most remarkable of the many tales told since the beginning of the war. The following is an ac-count of the services for which he re-ceived the Albert medal in gold:

torpedoed by the enemy, and the legs of a Lascar, who was on the spot where certain deck plates had buckled and broken, were caught so firmly be-tween the plates that he would have gone down with the ship. Mr. Fur-scaux, however, went to the man's as-sistance and managed to get one leg-out, but the other was nearly severed through above the knee. Finding it impossible to pull the leg out, Mr. Fur-neaux amputated it with an ordinary clasp knife and then carried the man

When in the boat he dressed the wound as well as possible and gave the life belt he was wearing to the wounded man. Mr. Furneaux also ren-dered first aid in the boat to another Lascar who was badly scalded. Mr. Furneaux was in imminent danger of losing his life in rendering the serv-

"But you're too young," objected the recruiting officer. "We'll have to decline your offer with thanks."

Whereupon young logolevich produced a St. George medal, the highest honor which a Russian soldier can win. He showed citations for bravery in various battles, notably to the Russia retreat at the Debussy river, when he remained after the rear guard had gone, spiking batteries and recovering "Incidentally," he said, "I'm the sor of Brigadier General logolevich, and I'm going to fight some more, whether you think I'm to young or not. I've seen three years of service and Free still got plents of scrap in me."

The recruiting officer decided to put the case up to Washington.

The readers of this paper will be pleased to learn that there is at least one dreaded disease that science has been able to cure in all its stages and that is catarrh. Catarrh being greatly influenced by constitutional conditions requires constitutional treatment. Half's Catarrh Medicine is taken internally and acts thru the Blood on the Mucous Burfaces of the System thereby destroying the foundation of the disease, giving the patient strength by building up the constitution and assisting nature in doing its work. The preprietors have so much faith in the curstive powers of Half's Catarrh Medicine that they offer One Hundred Dollars for any case that it falls to cure. Send for list of testimoulais. Address F. Opposition of Members Is Cause of Decision Made by War Council

Criticism having been made of a Red Cross appropriation for medical research, including vivisaction, the Red Cross war council at Washington announces that no money will be used for such purposes hereafter and such money as has been used will be refunded to the Red Cross.

In reaching this decision not to use Red Cross funds for research work, the war council does not take sides for or against vivisection, but in view of the large number of Red Cross members who object to research work, it was deemed wise to eliminate such

The original appropriation for re-search work was made last August upon recommendation of army medical officers of high rank who were conby war conditions and who thought that experiments upon animals might produce remedies. It was strictly an rgency war appropriation.

When pronounced opposition to the appropriation appeared, an individual came forward with an offer to pay for the research work out of his own re-sources and also to reimburse the Red Cross for past expenditures along this line, so that all Red Cross funds will be used for reilef work as all memunderstand and approve it.

The sincere convictions of a considerable body of Red Cross members are thus respected by the Red Cross without in any sense passing judgment upon the wisdom of research work.

Yale Makes Complete Change In Its Courses.

Plan to Turn Out Expert Artiflerymen-Given 15 Hours a Week to Werk.

New Haven, Conn .- Yale university itself a second West Point when it an nounced a complete change in its courses designed to turn out expert The new course proartillerymen. vides for three years of training for war. Next fall all students except those who enter the naval training course will be given a chance to take 15 hours a week of artillery work.

Men taking this course are enrolled as members of the reserve officers training corps. There are now over 700 of them in college, and it is their could only be described as torture, demand for intensified instruction that I sent and bought Thedford's led the authorities to take the nea step. It will still be possible for men to take some of the old courses, but every department of the university will throw its main strength into war train-

"The underlying idea of the action was this," President Arthur T. Hadley said: "Any course of study, to be ef-fective, must have a motive. In times of war the interest of everybody centers on military activities. The one way to keep our classroom work alive during these years is to connect studies with the work in which the nation is engaged."

Suffering Described As Torture Relieved by Black-Draught.

Rossville, Ga.-Airs. Kate Lee Able, of this place, writes: "My husband is an engineer, and once while lifting, he injured himself with a piece of heavy machinery, across the abdomen life was so sore he could not bear to press on himself at all, on chest or abdomen. He weighed 165 lbs., and fell off until weighed 110 lbs., in two weeks. He became constipated and it looked like he would die. We had three different doctors, yet with all their medicine, his bowels falled to act. He would turn up a tex-cent bottle of castor oil, and drink it two or three days in succession. He did this yet without result. We became desperate, he suffered so. He was swollen terribly. He told me his suffering

I sent and bought Thedford's Black-Draught. I made him take a big dose, and when it began to act he fainted, he was in such misery, but he got relief and began to mend at once. He got well, and we both feel he owes his life to

Thedford's Black-Draught will help you to keep fit, ready for the day's work.
